Shoffy

I've been seeing everything but still feel empty
Tryna do it all while I'm still in my 20s
But gravity is pulling, pulling me back
Missing you and that's a fact I'm a wanderer in the City of Angels
I try to let go, but I'm still faithful
Your smile is tattooed on my mental
Miss your touch oo so gentle o
I've been traveling every road
Seeing new things wherever I go
I'd still rather be home with you
I've been turning every stone
Digging up creatures all for the show
I'd still rather be home with you
Be home with you
I've seen the sunset in Paris
But somehow it still feels so lonely
Can't fill the hole in my heart
It's tearing me apart I'm a wanderer in the City of Angels
I try to let go, but I'm still faithful
Your smile is tattooed on my mental
Miss your touch oo so gentle oh I've been traveling every road
Seeing new things wherever I go
I'd still rather be home with you
I've been turning every stone
Digging up creatures all for the show
I'd still rather be home with you
Be home with you
Off to sea, I was flowing
Going in circles, just floating
I know I've been gone for a long time
If I could put the tape in and rewind
I would go back there a thousand times
Home is in your arms
Turn off the alarm, let me dream on
Dream on I've been traveling every road
Seeing new things wherever I go
I'd still rather be home with you
I've been turning every stone
Digging up creatures all for the show
I'd still rather be home with you
Be home with you
