

Satisfied

Jordan Feliz

I have stumbled through the darkest of valley's
I have climbed upon the highest of hills
All my traveling has brought me to your fountain
All I want is to come and drink my fill X2My heart

Your throne

This life belongs to you and you alone

Let there be

No divide

Only you may my soul be satisfied There is beauty that can lead into temptation

There are voices that will call me far away

I have found in my surrender your salvation

And in your love I've come to find a resting place X2

There broken, there thirsty who long for your mercy

can run to you only you and peace everlasting beyond understanding

In you only you
