

Tokyo (Anna of the North Remix)

Dan Croll

I break down inside
Every time that I see her eyes
Somehow you cross the line
Travelling faster than you've ever inclined
I've tried my best to [?] it, I can't believe what
You tell me what I should say
Meanwhile, other screen, just see
Tell me to take a seat
And watch you as you take on it all
But you set a phone
Now I've never been to Tokyo
Never made my intermissions known
Don't look kindly on the things you do
On my enigmatic point of view
Now I've never been to Tokyo
Never made my intermissions known
Don't look kindly on the things you do
On my enigmatic point of view
View
Now I've never been to Tokyo
Never made my intermissions known
Don't look kindly on the things you do
On my enigmatic point of view
Now I've never been to Tokyo
Never made my intermissions known
Don't look kindly on the things you do
On my enigmatic point of view
