

Endless Gray

Sworn In

there's something I'm just tired of screaming in my head so I'll finally say it out loud instead

Help

I'd say it out loud but I'd think if I did this would be real so I'll pretend I'll pretend that I'm sleeping at night
I'll pretend that everything feels alright
I'll pretend that I'm sleeping at night
I'll pretend that everything feels alright
don't want to arouse suspicion don't wanna have a god damn condition so I'll keep my composition, it's my decision

I can't take it anymore and I'll admit it, this isn't temporary

I've bled myself dry, just getting by

I don't want to die, I don't want to die, i i can't do this on my own

I need help

I don't want to be alone

I need help

back and forth, I've been grinding my teeth in my sleep they dig in deep, dreaming bout the day that the,

that the

reaper reaper takes me away

I'm speaking up now I've got something to say wanted to die, but now I want to stay

reaper reaper takes me away

I need help

I can't do this on my own

I need help

I don't want to be alone

saying it makes it real

I'm ready to tell you how I feel

I need help

for years I've let it take me away

been lost floating in the endless gray

for years I've let it take me away

fuck

it started out small

I really thought it was nothing at all

I never asked for help

I never had a clue how it grew bigger when my back was turned I guess I never really knew how badly my world had burned
