

The Missing Piece (feat. Lizzie Huffman)

Forgive Durden

Ahrima

What a splendid mess he's made of this
O the Scientist and his Genesis
He overlooked my gift and benefit
She's the only who knows what I could've done
I must be patient
They will realize what I know inside
I was meant to lead this world to greater things
It's my destiny Everything seems to fade when I see her face
The sky and trees all blur every time I look at her!
Nobody understood me 'til her eyes fixed upon me
My puzzle life's complete, now that I found the missing piece!

Nidria

Don't you worry, boy
It's a waste of time
Place your hand on mine, untie your mind
We'll just float away into the day
You're not the only one who thinks they're falling in love
You must be patient
They will realize what I see inside
You were meant to lead this world to greater things
It's your destiny Ahrima
Everything seems to fade when I see her face
The sky and trees all blur every time I look at her!
Nobody understood me 'til her eyes fixed upon me
My puzzle life's complete, now that I found the missing piece!

Oh, you're the meaning!

Nidria, please listen, I'd like to explain
I should have told you sooner, it's been gnawing at my brain
My mind's in knots, it's got me lost
Please help me through the maze
Cause you're the key, the lock turning
The breaking of these chains! Nidria
Everything seems to fade when I see his face
The sun and stars turn dim, everytime I look at him!
Nobody understood me 'til his eyes fixed upon me
My puzzle life's complete, now that I found the missing piece! Ahrima
Everything seems to fade when I see her face
The sky and trees all blur every time I look at her!
Nobody understood me 'til her eyes fixed upon me
My puzzle life's complete, now that I found the missing piece! The Narrator
Ahrima, the most gifted seraph, the utmost skilled of the cherubs

He felt his aptitude and sleight were being misused,
Shamed, he repined this to O The Scientist
Who replied with a calm face... expressionlessAhrima
Dream with your eyes closed
Try and pluck the pearls from your bones
Dream with your eyes closed
Try and pluck the pearls from your bones
