

23 Days

Framing Hanley

Your kiss was a perfect drug
It gave me the perfect high
How can cheaters fall in love?
They all deserve to die I need to feel you again
I need your lips on my skin
For one night I could be him or I could be better In your eyes I thought I saw tomorrow
Now all I see is wasted time Can we pretend it's always been okay?
We never lost it all, lost it all
Can we pretend we never left this fade?
You never lost it all, lost it all
Times not much of a friend
After 23 days
My patience has reached it's end
But I'd take you back anyway Hold your breath
You make the perfect sounds
This is what a love is made of
And baby you are missing out 'Cause in your eyes I thought I saw tomorrow
Now all I see is wasted time Can we pretend it's always been okay?
We never lost it all, lost it all
Can we pretend we never left this fade?
We never lost it all, lost it all Let's reintroduce our shadows
And watch them become one
This room is out of oxygen
And I'm not nearly done
The familiar taste of your body
Is how I know this is right
I'm not asking for tomorrow
I'm just asking for tonight Can we pretend it's always been okay?
We never lost it all, lost it all
Can we pretend we never left this fade?
We never lost it all, lost it all The familiar taste of your body
Is how I know this is right
Why worry about tomorrow?

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>