23 Days

Framing Hanley

Your kiss was a perfect drug
It gave me the perfect high
How can cheaters fall in love?
They all deserve to dieI need to feel you again
I need your lips on my skin
For one night I could be him or I could be betterIn your eyes I thought I saw tomorrow

Now all I see is wasted timeCan we pretend it's always been okay?

We never lost it all, lost it all
Can we pretend we never left this fade?
You never lost it all, lost it all
Times not much of a friend

After 23 days

My patience has reached it's end
But I'd take you back anywayHold your breath
You make the perfect sounds
This is what a love is made of

And baby you are missing out'Cause in your eyes I thought I saw tomorrow Now all I see is wasted timeCan we pretend it's always been okay?

We never lost it all, lost it all Can we pretend we never left this fade?

We never lost it all, lost it allLet's reintroduce our shadows

And watch them become one This room is out of oxygen And I'm not nearly done The familiar taste of your body Is how I know this is right

I'm not asking for tomorrow

I'm just asking for tonightCan we pretend it's always been okay?

We never lost it all, lost it all

Can we pretend we never left this fade?

We never lost it all, lost it allThe familiar taste of your body

Is how I know this is right

Why worry about tomorrow?
