

Red Shadows

T.S.O.L.

Something has changed today
Everything is out of place
You said we had to go
Because you saw the red shadows You can close your eyes it won't go away
You know the end is here today
Say goodbye, turn your head
The time has come just like you said Red, red shadows
Oh, red shadows I can feel the electric rains
The night won't come again
And your face, it has turned so gray
You wish it was yesterday, yesterday
Goodbye my love, I'll see you soon
I don't know where I don't have a clue
Don't look back, don't make the turn
They told me that these red shadows burn Red shadows
Oh, red shadows Tell me now is it true
Are these red sky's really blue
Tell me well is it a lie
Because I don't see any sky at all Just red shadows
Oh, red shadows I can feel the electric rains
The night won't come again
And your face, it has turned so gray
We all wish it was yesterday, yesterday
Tell me is it true
Are these red sky's really blue
Tell me is it a lie
Because I don't see any sky at all, at all
No sky at all, at all, at all, at all
