

Typhon

Therion

Typhon is alive
descending with allies
from the mountain of the snake in the deepest night of Pan Typhon will return
With Erebus and Nyx and a vision of the storm and the ocean and tethyschorus the dragon breaks the temple wall The flood will drown our gods Break down the wall and let another kingdom rise The castle of Olympia is shaking by the storm the king lost his crown and now the wall is tumbling down Typhon overthrow The throne of Father Zeus the creation of the gods and the order of mankind Thyphon is alive
Descending with allies
and the empires will fear all the power of her wrath chorus repeat
