

Talk

Daya

I'm not that plain and simple, I mean another lane
I'm rocking Shirley Temple, the cherry on the cake
Just a throwback kid from the nineties
I start my ABCs with the YZ
I paint with different colors and never in the lines
There isn't any other, I am the prototype
Tick-tock, waste time with your rumors
But I'm so ice cold, good humor They say I'm out of my mind
Standin' on the outside
But it's cooler, it's fresher
I like to hear...

They all gonna say what they wanna say anyway
Might as well give them something
Might as well give them somethin' to talk about
I don't really care if they wanna stare, look at me
Might as well give them something
Might as well give them something to talk about Give 'em somthin', a little somethin' (ah)
A little somethin' to talk about
Give 'em somethin', a little somethin' (ah)
A little somethin' to talk about I don't believe in Yeezus, I like them Kanye West
I'm rocking dirty sneakers with my designer dress
Order a Grade-A Steak with no pomfrey
I wake you up, Starbucks, sleep on me They say I'm out of my mind
Standin' on the outside
But it's cooler, it's fresher
I like to hear...

They all gonna say what they wanna say anyway
Might as well give them something
Might as well give them somethin' to talk about
I don't really care if they wanna stare, look at me
Might as well give them something
Might as well give them something to talk about Give 'em something, a little something (ah)
A little something to talk about
Give 'em something, a little something (ah)
A little something to talk about No, you don't know what
What you talking about
No, you don't know me
So just shut your mouth
No, you don't know what
What you talking about
No, you don't know me
So just shut your... They all gonna say what they wanna say anyway

Might as well give them something
Might as well give them somethin' to talk about
I don't really care if they wanna stare, look at me
Might as well give them something
Might as well give them something to talk about Give 'em something, a little something (ah)
A little something to talk about
Give 'em something, a little something (ah)
A little something to talk about
