Adam Lives In Theory

Lauryn Hill

Adam lives in theory
Trying to turn stone into bread
Masquerading like he got it figured out
Cut off from the sunshine, only smart in his own head
Leaving his descendants to hope and doubt
Left to his devices, those worthless sacrifices
Praying to the alter of himself
Making pilgrimages, thinking he's religious

Like he's got all the light, and no one elseHe takes the unsuspected

Cuz he knows they're not connected

And he shows them how to be just as he is Virtually real, and commercially appealed

To the lust of all the people where he lives Eve was so naive, blinded by the pride and greed wanting to be intellectual

Drifting from the way she got turned down one day
And now she thinks that she's bisexualCaught up in emotion

Burning up in her devotion

To the king of exploitaion in the field

She handed him her virtue

Cuz he told her "I won't hurt you"

So she lay with him to see how good it feelsNow can you tell me, what, what we gonna do now

Where we gonna go now, what we gonna say now

Now can you tell me, what, what we gonna do now

Where we gonna go now, what we gonna say now Now after the sensation, and the empty fornication

She brought affection home into her bed, quickly multiplying Now the 3 of them are dieing by the poison she perceived to be good bread

Now Eve and her husband are perverted in their judgment

Cuz everything appears to be the same

They entertain suggestion,

Next time just use protectionDesiring to cover up their shame But much to their demise, poor decision closed their eyes

To the very antidote to their dilemma

Burning in their lust,

Both of them adulterous

Destroying the original agenda

Praying to the sky, in order to maintain a lie

They exhausted every possible conclusion,

They can't even entertain the solution,

In a brain filled with vain information and pollutionHiding from the truth, He provided an excuse to explain away his desperate situation

When confronted, blamed his wife Giving birth to carnal life

Refusing to acknowledge what he doneNow if we can't agree with who created us to be Who says we're guilty everyone before his eyes

Making no exceptions, since the day of our conception

Predisposed to hating truth, and loving liesThen can you tell me, what, what we gonna do now

Where we gonna go now, what we gonna say now

Then can you tell me, what, what we gonna do now

Where we gonna go now, what we gonna say nowStop walking in pride, let the thief be crucified

Un-learn everything you know, and let him teach you Line upon line, every step upon pre-step, say goodbye,

To this decaying social system

He wants to know, how far we're willing to go

If we love him like we say we do,

He will try usJust don't regress,

Or slip into hopelessness

Once he's satisfied his love,

He won't deny us, And then he'll tell us,

What, what we gonna do now

Where we gonna go now, what we gonna say nowAnd then he'll tell us,

What, what we gonna do now

Where we gonna go now, what we gonna say now
