

A New Day's Begun

The Tenors

When it stormed over me
The fountain of songs
Whispered of the rosary
Shadows are gone
Feel like I am home
In the unknown Wind has got a hold on me
Sailing along to the shore of memories
Seeking the truth, I run into you,
Like all rivers do
If I fall along the way,
Will you take me by the hand
And carry me along,
Leaving footprints in the sand.
If I fall along the way
And have to face it on my own,
With your bright eyes shining like the sun
A new day's begun
A new day's begun As I look to the sky
I hear your heart
Sing to me a lullaby
Of willows that weep
The secrets they keep
Pour my tears to the sea
If I fall along the way
Will you take me by the hand
And carry me along
Leaving footprints in the sand
If I fall along the way
Or have to face it on my own
With your bright eyes shining like the sun
A new day's begun
A new day's begun
Woooo-ohhh-oh-ohhhh
A new day's begun When oceans collide,
And the river's running dry
Within you I'll find the light If I fall along the way
Will you take me by the hand
And carry me along
Leaving footprints in the sand
If I fall along the way
Or have to face it on my own
With your bright eyes shining like the sun

A new day's begun
A new day's begun
