

So Ashamed

Will Stratton

Listen darling, I'm so ashamed
I've broken the last of the old window panes
The world will hate us, but it's not our fault
The country we live in's been taken apart
Oh yesterday was a great day
It pulled me from the otherworld
Oh yesterday was a dark day
There's nothing to be told
Sanity is a long ways away
Surrounded by the crooked ambling aims
I'm turning off my eyes to the world
In hope that the past will return
Oh yesterday was a great day
It pulled me from the otherworld
Oh yesterday was a dark day
There's nothing to be told
