

The Bronze

Queens of the Stone Age

I been waiting
Waiting under things that rise in the morning
I been holding
Holding back so long
You can own it, take it off my hands, do me a favor
Nothin wasted
Just fingerfucked and busted up all at once I'm so lost out on the highway
With no direction left to go
Everyday sit up and wonder
Where it was I started from
The more you've found the less you've been around
