

Paddling Out

Miike Snow

The waves are warm, the sun is out
The sea is full of ancients
Take all the space between the grains of sand
And automate it There's someone here who laughs too hard at everything
There's someone here who laughs too hard at everything
You say isn't it hard?
Paddling out, paddling out
You say isn't it hard?
Paddling out, paddling out
The ride to land the mating crowds
Are out here for the weekend
We had to take our close before
The sun was gone completely
I used to like picking clouds
Deciding queens and which were doves
The lines I throw myself are thin
Are shower curtain thin There's someone here who laughs too hard at everything
There's someone here who laughs too hard at everything
You say isn't it hard?
Paddling out, paddling out
You say isn't it hard?
Paddling out, paddling out You say isn't it hard?
Paddling out, paddling out
You say isn't it hard?
Paddling out, paddling out
You say isn't it hard?
Paddling out, paddling out
You say isn't it hard?
Paddling out, paddling out You say isn't it hard?
Paddling out, paddling out
You say isn't it hard?
Paddling out, paddling out
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>