You're Lost, I'm Free

Pentagram

You've been telling lies that I can see Fairy tales that build inside of me You keep tellin me It's time we both see You're lost yes, I'm freeYou've been running wild, but not for me I feel just like a child that cannot see Your voice waking me Saying I should see You're lost, well I'm free Fade away; I think that somethin' strange is wrong I try to see, but still I feel, you are gone I think I should see When you said to me You're lost, yeah and I'm free Ya know I'm free I'm so free
