

Cinderblock Garden

All Time Low

Oh Oh O-O-Oh

Oh Oh O-O-Oh

Oh Oh O-O-Oh

The girl with the cinderblock garden

Wait, I think we're on to something that we can't run from Fate, but we can let it take us down

Down this road, where all the colours run together

Let's take the worst and make it better Let's take this mess and make a home

I know it gets hard for you to stay

But do you really wanna throw it all away? (I'm thinking)

We could make forever after all

Finding gold in our darkest moment

Watching the roads turning in to white roses

We don't ever have to leave these walls

I'll be the boy with the silver lining

You'll be the girl with the cinderblock garden

Oh Oh O-O-Oh

Oh Oh O-O-Oh

Oh Oh O-O-Oh

The girl with the cinderblock garden

Tonight, take all the ghosts and all those skeletons You hide, (you hide) bury them deep beneath the ground

Let them rest, (let them rest) because you weren't meant to bear that burden

Look at the roses in your garden You can breathe now and forget

Cos it gets hard for you to stay

But we don't have to really throw it all away I'm thinking

We could make forever after all

Finding gold in our darkest moment

Watching the roads turning in to white roses (Roses)

We don't ever have to leave these walls

I'll be the boy with the silver lining

You'll be the girl with the cinderblock garden Just hold out for tomorrow

Our dreams will follow

Follow us back

(To where) Where nothing was broken

The future was open

Let's go back again

(Let's go again)

We could make forever after all

Finding gold in our darkest moment

Watching the roads turning in to white roses

(Roses)

We don't ever have to leave these walls

I'll be the boy with the silver lining
You'll be the girl with the cinderblock garden
Oh Oh O-O-Oh
Oh Oh O-O-Oh
Oh Oh O-O-Oh
The girl with the cinderblock garden
