

Stabbed In the Throat

Cannibal Corpse

(lyrics, vocal patterns: Mazurkiewicz)As the blood begins to gush out the side of your neck

I thrust my cold steel into your face, your closer to death

A twelve inch blade will help decide your ultimate fate

This summons to die has been given to you for accepting my hateStabbed in the throat

For no reason but to kill, for no reason but the thrill

You must die for me to survive

Stabbed in the throat

I believe in sacrifice, sliced open with my knife

Your body is now life deprivedVocal cords twitching, esophagus severed, a hemorrhaging brain

Your lacerated jugular vein is spurting away

As mortality fades I am ready to flay your whole body and head

Vigorously carving this fresh human flesh, I am one with the dead

Stabbed in the throat

For no reason but to kill, for no reason but the thrill

You must die for me to survive

Stabbed in the throat

I believe in sacrifice, sliced open with my knife

Your body is now life deprivedI'm chewing bloody skin from the cadaver

Consuming lifeless meat, mangled and tattered

Half-eaten corpse lies skinless in the gutter

I am revitalizedOdium, embedded in my skullTo kill and eat your prey a way of nature

The taste of death must consciously be savored

My cannibal existence never endangered

Just look into my eyesSubjugate, intensity to blame

Gnawing on the head, sliced to fucking shreds

Knife to the gullet results in cessation(Solo - O'Brien)Stabbed in the throat

For no reason but to kill, for no reason but the thrill

You must die for me to survive

Stabbed in the throat

I believe in sacrifice, sliced open with my knife

Your body is now life deprived
