

Goodbye Windows

Corrosion of Conformity

Past regrets and future fear
Turns a boy into a man
Sooner than he planned
All the same the boy remains
Even though he's free he can't fly
With these heavy chains
Saw your mother yesterday
And she had these words to say
Like a judgement day
I think he shoulda known better
I think he shoulda known better
I think he shoulda known I'd rather have holes in my eyes
I'd rather have hole in my eyes yea
Then to watch your soul paralyzed
Goodbye
Your shining son no longer glows
Goodbye window
Through the goodbye window Thirsty from the start
Very soon you'll learn the
Oart of the redeemer
Oh what a dreamer
So you're waiting on the call
Pretty soon you'll know it all
Holy mountains fall
And he says
One might make you you lazy
Two might make you crawl
Three might make you crazy
And four ends it all I'd rather have holes in my eyes
I'd rather have hole in my eyes yea
Then to watch your soul paralyzed
Goodbye
Your shining son no longer glows
Goodbye window Through the goodbye
Through the goodbye
Through the goodbye window
Through the goodbye
(Shining son no longer glows)
Through the goodbye window
(Shining son no longer glows)
Goodbye
(Shining son no longer glows) Shoulda known better

Shoulda known better
Shoulda known betterShoulda known
Goodbye
Goodbye
Goodbye
