

New Constellations

Ryn Weaver

I can only imagine the day that they said
No, the world isn't flat, it's a circle instead
You can ride to wherever you want to now
And those dizzy stargazers who dreamed of the black
Kept their heads in the clouds and they never looked back
They kept wandering and never did they look down
Charting Neptune by the fire of the Sun
Kept looking for new constellations, new constellations
There's no walls and no ceilings as far as I know

Just the echoes of scars and the unbeaten road
Trip the gun on cautions that I've been sold
Cause it's hard to believe that it's wrong to want more
Than the truest of blue and a love like a roar
I will run to wherever I want to go, oh
Charting Neptune by the fire of the Sun
I'm looking for new constellations, new constellations
So keep callin' me crazy cause I never learned

You should stop loving fire because you got burned
Now it feels like I'm living some sick déjà vu
Like the answers were there when I stared into you
Child of Neptune, I'm the daughter of the Sun

Keep showing me new constellations, new constellations

You can run
You can run
You can run if you want to
If you want to, you know
You can run
You can run
You can run if you want to
If you want to, you know
You can run
You can run
You can run if you want to
If you want to, you know
You can run
You can run
You can run if you want to
If you want to, you know
If there's more
If there's more
What if there's more?
What if there's more?
What if there's just a little bit more?
What if there's more? What if there's more?
