I Would Stay

The Dangerous Summer

If you could only keep me alive
I swear that somehow we could find this
Way to change my life
And help me sing this
Because the rain, it hit this town
And washed away half of my faith, but now I'm ready to feel

What i've been feelingAnd then the sun, it hit my face And made me think of all the things that made me pray Like when I stood up all this cocaine hit my heart

> Then all the sudden I'm in love Oh God, it's almost summer

I hope addiction took my heart because I'm

Looking for a hook that could just

Hold me back from tearing out these speakers It's not the sound that drowns me out

But all this doubt that broke me down

You were my friend, but now I'm taking you to hellIf you could hold my hand You could feel what I've been feelingI wrote this song for you

It's not the reasons that I left

It's just the ones that kept me hanging onto youSo hold me down to

Writing letters

Like the song said I'm so much better

When I'm gone

You could take your time Because i'm living off this antidote

If you could hold my hand

You could feel what I was feeling

When I wrote this songI wrote this song for you

(If you could only keep me from letting this go f you could only keep me from singing this sound)But my pride, it killed

If you could only keep me from singing this sound)But my pride, it killed this town And remember what you said, but i'm still proud

And you could feel what I've been feeling

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by http://www.1songlyrics.com/