Ambrosia

Alesana

A touch of poison seals my fate
The dawn echoes the night with my glory... the sun himself honors meOnce king of roses, now lord of gold

Blessed with the gift of gilded touch The Gods themselves envy my hand

Fate wields its knife to cut the threadI curse the day my dream became my descent Suddenly, I long for you, my only loveIn my perfection I have no want A folly as fatal as sin

Yet eyes still glint with greed untold

Has now become the end of meI curse the day my dream became my descent Suddenly, I long for you, my only loveHave I not earned this, the gift of beauty within? How selfish were the Gods to keep their riches from my rightful treasure?

I truly have become one of them... my fatal flaw
Oh yeah! I've got her hook, line, and sinker!
Thanks to me, she's her own new necklace
Now she's good as gold
Thanks to me, she's her own new necklace
Now she's good as gold
I curse the day my dream became my descent
Suddenly, I long for you, my only love
I curse the day my dream became my descent
Suddenly, I long for you, my only love...
Cut the thread
