A Horse Called Music

Willie Nelson & Merle Haggard

High on a mountain in western Montana A silhouette moves 'cross a cinnamon sky Riding alone on a horse he called Music With a song on his lips, and a tear in his eyeHe dreams of a time, and a lady that loved him And how he would sing her sweet lullabies But we don't ever ask him And he never talks about her Guess it is better to just let it slide But sang "ooh" to the ladies And ooh, he made some sigh Now he rides away on a horse he called Music With a pain in his heart and a tear in his eyeHe rode the Music from Boston to Bozeman For not too much money, but way to much ride But those were the days when a horse he called Music Could jump through the moon and sail across the skyNow all that's left is a time-old worn cowbov With nothin' more than the sweet by-and-by And trailing behind, is a horse with no rider A horse he calls memories that she used to rideAnd he sang "ooh" to the ladies And ooh, he damn near made some fall right down and die Now he rides away on a horse he called Music With a pain in his heart and a tear in his eye High on a mountain in western Montana Two crosses cut, through a cinnamon sky Marking the place where a horse he called Music Lays with a cowboy in the sweet by-and-by...
