Witness to Your Life

Lori McKenna

Someone was cryin? and the bells rang Then I don? t remember a thing You were talkin? but the words came From somebody elseSomeone said kiss her and so you did I was smilin? like a little kid You kissed my teeth and then we both hid Inside each other? s armsAll you really need is someone to be here Someone who? ll never let you disappear And I will be that witness to your lifeThis maybe just a softer place to fall But somebody will answer when you call And I will be that witness to your life You got that job and join the union Fought every urge, I told you to run Stared down the barrel of an empty gun And wandered a bitStopped listenin? to all your friends They think this is where life begins and ends No one reaches, no one transcends They just learn to live with itAll you really need is someone to be here Someone who? Il never let you disappear And I will be that witness to your lifeYou should never have to be alone Someone will always call you home And I will be that witness to your lifeAll you really need is someone to be here Someone who? ll never let you disappear And I will be that witness to your life Baby, I will be that witness to your life Up the road, your car comes into view And from a furlong I just smile at you Another day I thank the Lord that you Took the right road home

Lyrics provided by http://www.1songlyrics.com/