

Useless

Cavo

Open your eyes to a brighter way of dreaming
Relax the moments are kept locked inside
Hold me now as day turns into evening
Here comes the night All their words and all their lies
I need to find a safer place to hide And it feels useless
Stop me from making the same mistakes as you Yours are the smiles that make this world worth keeping
Only the ones we remember fade in time
All their words and all their lies
I need to find a safer place to hide And it feels useless
And it feels, oh, it feels brand new
And it feels, my God it feels so useless
Stop me from making the same mistakes as you All their words and all their lies
I need to find safer places to hide And it feels useless
Stop me from making the same mistakes as you
And it feels useless
And it feels, oh, it feels brand new
And it feels, my God it feels so useless
Stop me from making the same mistakes as you
You, you
