The Burden

Slipknot

There's God Can I feed you again? Will I have to stay dumb? You can feel and it begins But I know inside this heart attack I can see through your eyes I'm terrified of everything But it's no real surprise Because the parasites are dancing closer All this sacrilegion warns in posters Can you handle it? In the dark Why I think I'm alone I swept through my visions I'm going too cold Today is a tragedy In the mouth of the mad But that doesn't matter now I've come home relaxed I'm curled up in a ball, and shaking I'm hiding from the hell I'm making I can't believe the chance I'm taking Is there any other way? Is there any other way? The burden The burden You can't save me There is nothing more to give I am changing Almost like I never lived Be my witness Just don't leave me in suspense Keep this, prove it Tell them all the consequencesThe burden Have you ever been burdened before? The burden

Was there anything you wanted more?You can't save me
There is nothing more to give
I am changing
Almost like I never lived
Be my witness
Just don't leave me in suspense
Keep this, prove it

Tell them all the consequencesOur same plea
By now you know that looks are deceiving
I'm covered in a rash and receding
Is there any other way?

Is there any other way? For gods' sakes we've suffered - this pain is now our lives For gods' sakes we've suffered enough

For gods' sakes we've suffered - this pain is now our lives

For gods' sakes we've suffered enough

For gods' sakes we've suffered - this pain is now our lives

For gods' sakes we've suffered enough

For gods' sakes we've suffered - this pain is now our lives

Enough Enough
