

One More Hour

Tame Impala

Just a moment
Right before all the singing ends
Wasn't brave enough to tell you That there ain't gonna be another chance
It's not gone until (All that I have)
And everything's still (One more hour)
Minutes erasing, whatever I've done
I did it for love (All that I have)
I did it for fun (One more hour)
Couldn't get enough (All that I have)
I did it for fame (One more hour)
But never for money
Not for houses, not for her
Not for my future children
Until now
How could I love again?
How could I ever ask for more?
And to the road ahead
Into a life I can't ignore
How could I love again?
How can I love this path for sure?
With no more time to spare
I know the answer more and more As long as I can, long as I can
Spend some time alone
As long as I can, long as I can
Be the man I am Ooh life is strange
One more hour
I could wait
One more hour
As long as I can (Lose her)
As long as I can (Move her)
Spend some time alone
As long as I can (Lose her)
As long as I can (Move her)
Remember who I am
As long as I can (Lose her)
As long as I can (Move her)
Spend some time alone
As long as I can (How could I love again?)
As long as I can
Be the man I am Just a minute batter up before you go out there
All your voices said you wouldn't last a minute, babe
One more hour and you know your life is one to share

Just a minute baby right before we go through here
All these people said we wouldn't last a minute, dear
I'm with you and I can roll into another year
Just a minute batter up before you go out there
All your voices said you wouldn't last a minute, babe
One more hour and you know your life is one to share
Just a minute baby right before we go through here
All these people said they wouldn't last a minute, dear
I'm with you and I can roll into another year
Just a minute batter up before you go out there
All your voices said you wouldn't last a minute there

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>