

Sirens

Rag'n'Bone Man

When the siren's calling out my name
Will I succumb, lose myself again
As the sirens sing aloud their song
Should I sing along, and give myself to sin
When the Siren's calling
Jump this ship and crash into the waves
(When the siren's calling)
Break my back on jagged rocks again
(When the siren's calling)
Hold my ears to deafen out the sound
(When the siren's calling)
Ignore these voices that will drag me down
When the sirens call my name
(When the siren's calling)
Jump this ship and crash into the waves
(When the siren's calling)
Break my back on jagged rocks again
(When the siren's calling)
Hold my ears to deafen out the sound
(When the siren's calling)
Ignore these voices that will drag me down
When the sirens call my name
