

Hideaway

Small Brown Bike

Cabin in the woods
Where I feel isolation
Where I feel separation from everything
But my mind travels distances that my body can't make
I find it hard to sleep with this oncoming dream, I recite
"I see you" This room sinks below
Underground tonight
Is your room sinking too?
I lie in the hide away bed
An attempt for the best to awake my sleeping life
Death is contagious
Death is courageous The phone was crying tonight, but I can't answer it's call (Wake up, wake up)
With a purpose to react to this loss of response
"I'll find you"
Is your room sinking too?
I lie in the hide away bed
