

Hello World

Devvon Terrell

Looking for someone to blame
My surroundings haven't changed, no
I feel like I'm stuck in the same place, same place
No one in this room knows my name And I take my time but that feels way too slow, oh
And I know I'm great but the world just don't know
Counting down the time
Even though it's been a minute
I'm just trynna go harder
They'll know my name when I finish
And I'll be like hello hello hello hello hello world
(World)
I'll be like hello hello hello hello hello world
(World)
Counting down the time
Even though it's been a minute
And I'll be like hello hello hello hello hello world
(World) I know there's no one to blame
I say it just to stay sane
It's not easy but I knew it be that way
Work and work all day like I'm running in place And I take my time but that feels way too slow
And I know I'm great but the world just don't know
Counting down the time
Even though it's been a minute
I'm just trynna go harder
They'll know my name when I finish
And I'll be like hello hello hello hello hello world
(World)
I'll be like hello hello hello hello hello world
(World)
Counting down the time
Even though it's been a minute
And I'll be like hello hello hello hello hello world
(World) Counting down the time
Even though it's been a minute
I just gotta go harder
You'll know my name when I finish Ohhhhhh
Freedom, freedom
Take me as I am
Ohhhhhh
Freedom, freedom
Take me as I am And I'll be like hello hello hello hello hello world
(World)

I'll be like hello hello hello hello world
(World)
Counting down the time
Even though it's been a minute
And I'll be like hello hello hello hello world
(World)
