

Lies

Martina McBride

Lemons are sweet as honey usually life is fair purple's a shade of money and Jesus doesn't care Hummingbirds can't fly backwards Lovers don't say god bye Saturn has seven rings and I have never told a lie Don't walk these halls and I don't climb these walls everynight
And I don't cry
And even tho I've waiting by the phone
I don't want you to call
I don't miss you at all Lies
Lies
I'm finally moving forward Getting on with my life I never dream of you and me it's strange I don't know why. I'm really not that lonely.
You never cross my mind
And when I hear your name it doesn't cut me like a knife. I don't walk these halls and I don't climb these walls everynight
And I don't cry
And even tho I've waiting by the phone
I don't want you to call
I don't miss you at all This is how I keep my sanity
This is what I need you to believe I don't walk these halls and I don't climb these walls everynight
And I don't cry
even tho I've waiting by the phone
I don't want you to call
Lies
Oh Lies
