Graveyard

Kelsea Ballerini

I don't wanna be another skeleton in your closet
Another rose that you throw, 'cause you know that it ain't okay
Just a name on a stone in a row down the road forgotten
'Cause I was falling fast, now I'm just a dash between two datesAnd I don't wanna be another heart in your graveyard

In the cold, hard dirt that you throw down

I don't wanna watch you drive away in a black car to a new bar

So you can find anotherHopeless, broken girl in a little black dress

And you take her, break her, lay her heart to rest in peace

Right here peyt to meMaybe I was paive to believe you would never hurt m

Right here next to meMaybe I was naive to believe you would never hurt me

But now I know why you hide in your darkest suit and shades You put on a show, so nobody knows your hands and your shoes are dirty

I guess you don't need a shovel to dig a grave (shovel to dig a grave)

And I don't wanna be another heart in your graveyard In the cold, hard dirt that you throw down

I don't wanna watch you drive away in a black car to a new bar So you can find another Hopeless, broken girl in a little black dress

And you take her, break her, lay her heart to rest in peace

Right here next to me, yeahYou gonna go out one night when you see me out

'Cause the ghost of a broken heart don't stay six feet down

Yeah, you gonna go out one night when you see me out

'Cause the ghost of a broken heart don't stay six feet downI don't wanna be another heart in your graveyard

In the cold, hard dirt that you throw down

I don't wanna watch you drive away in a black car to a new bar

So you can find another

Hopeless, broken girl in a little black dress

And you take her, break her, lay her heart to rest in peace

Right here next to me

Hopeless, broken girl

And you just take her, break her heart

Let her rest in peace

Right here next to meI don't wanna be another heart

I don't wanna be another heart

In your graveyard, babe

In your graveyard, hey
