

Go For It All

T. Mills

I don't wanna be okay, I just need to hear you say
When nothing really goes your way, tomorrow is a brand new day
Let me help you ease your mind, I'mma make you realize
That tonight's your night()

Uh

I just want you to fly like a first class ticket on a mission through the sky

Never listen to the lies, keep me racing to the moon

I just be slighter than the whispers in the room

And them critics just assume you will never get do

All the things you really love, such a pessimistic view

Well let me tell you like mama told me

Everything comes back, it's never always gon be

So mama never home, and papa never sober

You gotta keep climbin, the top is never closer

The truth is like a fight that'll take you to the white

And tomorrow gets brighter is you make it through the night, right?

You got it, they can never take it

They just gonna hate it cus they could never make it

Better days are coming in this thing called life

When rain go away a rainbow will say

It's alright

I don't wanna be okay, I just need to hear you say

It's alright

When nothing really goes your way, tomorrow is a brand new day

It's alright

Let me help you ease your mind, I'mma make you realize

That tonight's your night

So baby let's go for it all()

Why? You can find a smile

We done made it to the sky, we ain't never comin down

Remember all the nights you was wishin on a star

I told you if you fight it'll get you from them all

See? You just gotta say

And I will bring you blue skies I'll make all your fake friends go away

All they do is throw shade

It's time to get the sunshine back and watch all these gray clouds blow away

Okay you got it, they could never stop it

They just gonna hate it cus they could never top it

And even if you block it there's gotta be a way out

If our work pay off there's gotta be a pay out

Stay on start of bizzoc, stack your own brizzocks

Into a building when you was feeling light

Giving up you never did
So I just came to let you know that if you never hit
It's alright
I don't wanna be okay, I just need to hear you say
It's alright
When nothing really goes your way, tomorrow is a brand new day
It's alright
Let me help you ease your mind, I'mma make you realize
That tonight's your night
So baby let's go for it all(Bridge)
Keep your eyes to the skies
And baby, we'll go for it all
Don't ask why, that's just right
So baby, let's go for it all I don't wanna be okay, I just need to hear you say
It's alright
When nothing really goes your way, tomorrow is a brand new day
It's alright
Let me help you ease your mind, I'mma make you realize
That tonight's your night
So baby let's go for it all
