

Biscuits

The Young Folk

Well it's a stranger in the dark, because i don't know how to fix this.
You see when a rocket need that spark, and all i know is you like biscuits.
And everything we are trying to say, same as it was before.
And no one knows who just to blame, when i come knocking to your door. Oh would you let me in, oh would you let me in.

See we could start again, look what a state your in. Oh girl

Oh girl

Oh girl

Oh girl

And everything we are trying to say, would you stop your silly games.
Would you say in what a state i'm in, so here you go you are going to start this again. Oh would you let me in, now you let me in.

See we could start again, look what a state your in. Oh girl

Oh girl

Oh girl

Oh girl She is a stranger in the dark, because i wish that i could fix this.

And when a rocket need that spark, and all i know is you like biscuits.

And all i know is you like biscuits.

And all i know is you like biscuits.

And all i know is you like biscuits.

And all i know is you like biscuits.

And all i know is you like christmas but it wasn't so good last year.

And all i know is you like christmas but it wasn't so good last year.

(And all i know is you like christmas) but it wasn't so good last year.

(And all i know is you like christmas) but it wasn't so good last year.

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>