

Moonchild

M83

They say i made the moon
Everything was in the dark
No memories at all
Just a tiny freezing wind in my back
As i was sitting there
Singing a song they had never heard before
Suddenly, a voice told me
Keep on singing little boy
And raise your arms in the big black sky
Raise your arms the highest you can
So the whole universe will glow

-----
My first vision was a bush growing down the river
And i couldn't stop crying
Something was missing
I realized i was in love with a voice
I called it, again, and again
But all i heard was the echo in the light
