

Should've Known Better (feat. Anne-Marie)

Clean Bandit

[Verse 1]

I'm out of your control
There's nowhere left to hide
I packed my bags at midnight
To leave this mess behind
Me, myself and I
Have read between the lines
Left the engine running
I guess this is goodbye[Pre-Chorus]
And you're never gonna change my mind
We've been here about a thousand times
Should've never let you back inside
Inside my mind

[Chorus]

I should've known better
Then to let you break my heart
I should've known better
I believed you from the start
And now we're wasting all this time
I should've known better
So I'm taking back my life[Post-Chorus]
Should've known better than that
Should've known, should've known
I should've known, should've known better
Should've known, should've known
I should've known better than that
Should've known, should've known
I should've known, should've known better
Should've known, should've known
I should've known better than that

[Verse 2]

Looking back, I know
You had me hypnotized
Since I've got my senses
I see right through your lies
Now you're on your own
You call me every night
You're looking through our photos
But I didn't even save mine[Pre-Chorus]
And you're never gonna change my mind
We've been here about a thousand times
Should've never let you back inside

Inside my mind[Chorus]
I should've known better
Then to let you break my heart
I should've known better
I believed you from the start
And now we're wasting all this time
I should've known better
So I'm taking back my life[Post-Chorus]
Should've known better than that
Should've known, should've known
I should've known, should've known better
Should've known, should've known
I should've known better than that
Should've known, should've known
I should've known, should've known better
Should've known, should've known
I should've known better than that[Bridge]
Finally you opened up my eyes
Why'd it take so long to see the light?
Now I'm gonna leave your ass behind[Pre-Chorus]
And you're never gonna change my mind
We've been here about a thousand times
Should've never let you back inside
Inside my mind[Chorus]
I should've known better
Then to let you break my heart
I should've known better
I believed you from the start
And now we're wasting all this time
I should've known better
So I'm taking back my life[Post-Chorus]
Should've known better than that
Should've known, should've known
I should've known, should've known better
Should've known, should've known
I should've known better than that
Should've known, should've known
I should've known, should've known better
Should've known, should've known
I should've known better than that
