

Running Late

Flying Colours

I'm running late again
All I've done with my friends
I guess to try, I'm ashamed of who I am
But I am running late, again
When I look down at my watch
It's always someone that I'll know
Is that too much?
Don't want what I care so much about
Running late again
I hold my eyes against the sky
Every day I am running out of time
I'm running late again
All I've done with my friends
I've much to do
Well I just can't keep up with you
And I'm running late again
I hold my eyes against the sky
Every day I'm running out of time
When they are always on time
Must be the mean to look for me
To pass the time
I'm running late again
I'm running late again
I'm running late again
