

Open Your Eyes

Disturbed

You're paralyzed, breathe your disguise
You feed on the lies that they tell you
Got to break away from the numbing pain
Succumb to the rage that's inside you
You're hypnotized, demoralized
Believe every line that they sell you
Start channeling whatever will remain
Discern from what's fiction and what is true
Open your eyes
Open your eyes
See through the disguise
Won't you open your eyes?
You've lost your sense from the emptiness
You do as the headlines compel you
Become whole again and let the war begin
Destroy the veneer that surrounds you
There's no defense for your recklessness
You stare as the proof lies before you
Why can't you see, are you afraid to be Exposed to the demons around you?
Open your eyes
Open your eyes
See through the disguise
Won't you open your eyes?
Open your eyes
Open your eyes
See through the disguise
Won't you open your eyes?
You would all be runnin'
In a world you cannot hide
And the end is comin'
For the lemmings standing in line
Overcome it
Let the fury build inside
It could all be broken
If you only opened your eyes
Open your eyes
Open your eyes
See through the disguise
Won't you open your eyes?
Open your eyes
Open your eyes

See through the disguise
Won't you open your eyes?
