Catch Fire

Periphery

Lock eyes like we're staring down the barrel of a shotgun Appear so quickly Leave as swiftly as you came Sometimes I wish I had the measure of a wise man But I set the mood, plant the tomb and bury all the bones within It sure is something when we all catch fire Bodies burning like the sunriseStay with me, I'll show you paradise It feels so right Give me that peace of mind and I'll give you everything Just know it feels so good that I could die and be alright Alive We breathe when everthing is as it seems But is there something much more? Underneath the sheets, beneath the skin There's a beauty waiting to be adored We're cradled in the thick of it, but too ignorant to give a shit We set the mood, we plant the tomb and bury all the bones within Don't keep me hanging from the mouth It sure is something when we all catch fire Bodies burning like the sunriseStay with me, I'll show you paradise It feels so right Give me that peace of mind and I'll give you everything Just know it feels so good that I could die and join the stars Give me that peace of mind and I'll give you everything Stay with me, I'll show you paradise It feels so right We exsist in this moment only to fly Just stay with me Twisting love as we hold it on the inside Just stay with meIt sure is something when we all catch fire Bodies burning like the sunriseStay with me, I'll show you paradise It feels so right Give me that peace of mind and I'll give you everything Just know it feels so good that I could die and join the stars Give me that peace of mind and I'll give you everything Stay with me, I'll show you paradise It feels so right!

Lyrics provided by http://www.1songlyrics.com/