

Respect Commander

Jack White

She commands my respect
She commands my respect
And I can't recollect
I'm at a time in my life
She has all my respect
She has all my respect
And I cannot protect my heart from her command
And she's stringin' me along
I'm about to break, it's strong, so I can't detect it
She's comin' up behind me in the mornin' lovin' when I least expect it
Every single thing about this situation says I can't be wrong
And every time she gets her satisfaction
I want her to control me all night long
