

She's Not You

Elvis Presley

Her hair is soft and her eyes are also blue
She's all the things a girl should be but she's not you
She knows just how to make me laugh when I feel blue
She's everything a man could want but she's not you
And when we're dancing it almost feels the same

I've got to stop myself from whispering your name

She even kisses me like you used to do

And it's just breaking my heart 'cause she's not you

And it's just breaking my heart 'cause she's not you

And when we're dancing it almost feels the same

I've got to stop myself from whispering your name

She even kisses me like you used to do

And it's just breaking my heart 'cause she's not you

And it's just breaking my heart 'cause she's not you
