Massive Attack

I'm looking for you in the woods tonight I'm looking, looking for you with my flashlight I'm searching from in the high or down the ocean And I pace myself in racing Gain the wolf, gain the wolfConjure me as a child Slipping down the wet side Stretch up, I cannot reach him Jumping up, they drag him from the water I watch them march him into life I watch them take him from the pale Into the sky for your eagle eye The sun seeds a sickle and a scytheRidicule they won't allow Quench abuse and let love flower Rip the cage out of your chest Let the chaos fool the rest Show without showing What you know without knowing Twigs snap, I catch, no canoe Only you and me, alone on the old teal sea Dissolving who we are Call out for yesterday's destiny gone We're on a foreign shore It was the mark of falling I was the car still running And when you call I'll be your shield for life And if you feel it, you'll fly The sunset a-begging me And I was set to fall in As I was set to fall in
