

Turn Out the Lights

Julien Baker

There's a hole in the drywall, still not fixed
I just haven't gotten around to it
And besides I'm starting to get used to the gaps
So you wish you could find some way to help
Don't be so hard on myself
So why is it easy for everyone else?
I'm not always like this
There's always tomorrow I guess
And I'd never do it, but it's not a joke
I can't tell the difference when I'm all alone
Said you're either a dream, which is worse
Can you help me?
I just wanted to go to sleep
When I turn out the lights?
When I turn out the lights?
There's no one left
Between myself and me
But when I turn out the lights
When I turn out the lights
When I turn out the lights
Between myself and me
