Home

Daughtry

I'm staring out into the night, trying to hide the painI'm going to the place where loveAnd feeling good don't ever cost a thing

And the pain you feel's a different kind of pain

Well, I'm going home, back to the place where I belongAnd where your love has always been enough for me

I'm not running from, no, I think you got me all wrong
I don't regret this life I chose for meBut these places and these faces are getting old
So I'm going home, well I'm going home

The miles are getting longer, it seems, the closer I get to you I've not always been the best man or friend for you

But your love it makes true and I don't know why

You always seem to give me another trySo I'm going home, back to the place where I belong

And where your love has always been enough for me

I'm not running from, no, I think you got me all wrong

I don't regret this life I chose for me

But these places and these faces are getting old

Be careful what you wish for 'cause you just might get it all

You just might get it all and then some you don't want

Be careful what you wish for 'cause you just might get it all

You just might get it all, yeah

Oh, well I'm going home, back to the place where I belong

And where your love has always been enough for me

I'm not running from, no, I think you got me all wrong

I don't regret this life I chose for me

But these places and these faces are getting old

I said these places and these faces are getting old

So I'm going home, I'm going home

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by http://www.1songlyrics.com/