

Tony the Tiger

Manchester Orchestra

I was alone so I set a fire
And I wasted it all on you You were a seed I can hardly remember
And I knew I'd be over soon If there was a tree I knew you couldn't take it
On a Sunday afternoon We were a bridge on top of gaudy water
When I had something left inside of you What is the price to be a bargain beggar?
So lonely but always free
And what did you mean when you said "it's destructive"?
and you sank yourself right into me I know you think you know, but you probably don't
And I know you think you know, but you probably don't know
Don't think that you would actually do it And we slept the entire drive home
It was you, my sister and I Don't think that you would actually do it Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>