Rise Again

Brandi Carlile

When I find the sweet hereafter

Put a blanket on my soul

Cast a shadow on my heart

Slide the chain across my doorEver turning all the seasons

Ever fading all the days

And if there ever was a reason

I just haven't found a wayTo fall like rain

Fall like rain

Fall like rain

Fall like rain

Only to rise again

I was longing for the wind

On the tress begin to sway

But I never grow my wings

No, I never fly awayFor the anchor of my love

To which my heart is bound

Is [?] for the cage

That keepes me on the groundTo fall like rain

Fall like rain

Fall like rain

Fall like rain

Only to rise againNow I'm dreaming to myself

With a tear behind my eye

For a shelter is my mind

In the quiet of the night

Ever turning all the seasons

Ever fading all the days

And if there ever was a reason

I just haven't found a wayTo fall like rain

Fall like rain

Fall like rain

Fall like rain

Only to rise again
