

Killer Kaczynski

Mando Diao

Bombs over the street bombs all over the subway
Bombs on your mind when there's no one around
But in your garden there was never a problem
But now you're standing on the street Bombs for your dad bombs for your mommy
Bombs that passed a long time ago
And in your childhood there was never a problem
But now you're standing on the street
And you wish that there was something you could do
To win back that feeling that was new and fresh but
Bombs over the street bombs all over the subway
Bombs on your mind and the people around
It's such a shame now this game you play now You're standing lonely on the street with bombs tied on to your feet Yeah... Blood all over the street blood all over your body
Blood on your mind and the people around
And in your garden there was never a problem
But now you're standing on the street
And you wish that there was something you could do
To win back that feeling that was new and fresh but
Bombs over the street bombs all over the subway
Bombs on your mind and the people around
It's such a shame now this game you play now
You're standing lonely on the street with bombs tied on to your feet... Yeah...

Lyrics provided by <http://www.1songlyrics.com/>