

Hey Lady (feat. Esmee Denters)

The New Velvet

Hey lady, you got something I need
I'm going crazy, cuz you got something that keeps me on my feet
I don't know what it is, but I know that it's true
That love makes no sense,
If I'm not loving you
Now I'm loving you, yeah She runs around in the city downtown
Always catchin' the late train, it's always a good day
She likes to pretend the world is her play pen Droppin' her money on everything she sees PRE-She's got tattoos on her arm of the people that she loves
And a suitcase with studded stars from the places where she was Hey lady, you got something I need
I'm going crazy, cuz you got something that keeps me on my feet
I don't know what it is, but I know that it's true
That love makes no sense,
If I'm not loving you
Now I'm loving you, yeah There was a time where I would have given up
No, not anymore, no, never on this girl
She likes Skittles from London
Sippin' on sunsets, call her what you will PRE-She's got tattoos on her arm of the people that
she loves
And a suitcase with studded stars from the places where she was Hey lady, you got something I need
I'm going crazy, cuz you got something that keeps me on my feet
I don't know what it is, but I know that it's true
That love makes no sense,
If I'm not loving you
Now I'm loving you, yeah
If you hear me on the radio,
"Hello, I notice everything you do"
Do, do, do, do, do, do,
Hello, I'm calling out to you, when I sing Hey lady, you got something I need
I'm going crazy, cuz you got something that keeps me on my feet
I don't know what it is, but I know that it's true
That love makes no sense,
If I'm not loving you
Now I'm loving you, yeah
