The Beast (Twisted Sister Cover)

Sabaton

You can hear the thunder Long before the storm, But you can't hear the lion when he stalks his prey He's moving like a shadow Creeping up on you And like a siren's call he's gonna have his way You'd better run, forget your pride Don't make a stand, just step aside If you don't have what it takes Don't try to play you'll lose your stakes Remember this at leastIt's the nature of the beast It's the nature of the beast You won't hear a footstep Comin' up on you Movin' like a snake he's in complete control

This killer knows his business

He is the predator

You are his only target, you're his only goalWhat will you say what will you do?

Your wildest nightmare's comin' true

There is nothing you can say

No way to change, he won't delay

This cain will have his feastIt's the nature of the beast It's the nature of the beastIf you play you're bound to lose

Don't roll the dice, don't turn the screws

Just listen to the priest

It's the nature of the beast
