

I Really Wanted You

Pansy Division

I heard you're getting married
It seemed inevitable to me
Cause I was with you the night you met her
She had you hooked instantly
At the very first I thought it wouldn't last very long
Pretty soon I realized my estimate was wrong
Well I guess it's kinda late now
To say what you already knew
I really wanted you
I know it's a jealous reaction
But after all that time we spent
She just picked you up and carried you off
I couldn't follow where you went I'm well aware that certain things just cannot be
But don't deny that there were other possibilities
On the hottest night of the summer
On a sticky, steamy street
I was glowing like the sunset
I knew how happy we could really be Your suntanned body stretched out on the carpet in front of me
I know as long as I live
I'll never lose that memory
Well I guess I shouldn't say no more
You can do what you wanna do
I just have to say
I really wanted you
